

RECOMMENDED RESOURCES

ADULT EDUCATION

Bible Study Resources

There are a multitude of resources available in the Concordia Publishing House catalog in the category of Bible Studies. Congregations should examine their needs and go to the catalog to see what meets their needs. Church leaders can also point their members to the numerous devotional resources for families that are available. Here are some suggestions to help congregations get started.

For gaining an understanding about who Jesus really is and to prepare God's people against the false teachers who try to turn God's people against the true faith

Richard, Matthew. Will the Real Jesus Please Stand Up?: 12 False Christs. 2017. Item no. 124511.
Electronic version is No. 124511kin

For helping God's people gain Biblical literacy

Scharlemann, John. Exploring God's Word: Old Testament. 1997. Item no. 204054

Scharlemann, John. Exploring God's Word: New Testament. 1997. Item no. 204056

For in-depth studies of individual books

The God's Word for Today series would give congregations the resources for study of individual books of the Bible.

Though most of these resources seem pricey at $32.00, the electronic versions enable one to avoid shipping costs, and they are reproducible, so that one can make as many copies as one needs of these works.

For exploring current social issues

There are numerous studies on social issues available. One study worth pursuing in view of events of 2020:

Haney, B. Keith. One Nation under God: Healing Racial Divides in America. 2017.
Downloadable item no. 204223pdf